

THE PATENTS ACT, 1970

Section 30

Anticipation by previous communication to Government

An invention claimed in a complete specification shall not be deemed to have been anticipated by reason only of the communication of the invention to the Government or to any person authorized by the Government to investigate the invention or its merits, or of anything done, in consequence of such a communication, for the purpose of the investigation.

<<previous

next>>